

Recognition should project knowledge

If you are a young researcher, in basic or clinical areas of investigation, under the age of 40, and have at least one relevant and innovative study on Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis - ALS published in the year or in the year before the contest, sign up for The PG Award. In addition to the award, you will have the opportunity to widely propagate your work, presenting your study at the ALS/MND International Symposium.

Don't miss this chance: your study certainly deserves it!
